PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"WE TAKE CARE OF OUR OWN"

I am sad to report that member Jay Maher's father James Maher has passed away. James was a retired NYPD Deputy Inspector and past President of the Hudson Valley 10-13 Club. Two of Jay's sons are Police Officers with the Daytona Beach Department. Please keep the Maher family in your prayers.

It seems like it is hunting season on cops. Two northern California Sheriffs Deputies were killed this week. Two NYPD officers were attacked by a Islamic terrorist wielding a hatchet. One of the officers was struck in the head and remains in critical condition. The other officer sustained non life threatening injuries and remains in stable condition at the time of this writing.

New York City has experienced its first case of the Ebola Virus. It was nice to see that the Governors of New York and New Jersey developed their own protocol to protect its citizens. This action side stepped the CDC's directions which have been inadequate in dealing with this disease.

Members who are on Social Security will see a 1.7 percent increase in their checks beginning in January.

The November 3rd meeting will be a luncheon at the Ormond Beach Elks Club starting at 12pm. The meeting will have some quest speakers with regard to benefits and notification to various agencies upon your demise. It is important that you bring your spouse or anyone else who will be handling your final affairs. The Club will be paying for the luncheon. It is requested that all those attending pay $3. per person which will help the club offset the cost of the luncheon.

The Christmas dinner dance will be held on December 6th at the Palm Coast Elks Club. Please make an effort to attend this function. Further info is contained in the N/L.

I would like to thank the members who have already paid their dues.

Please pray for our troops serving overseas. May God assist our military with his mighty sword in crushing the fanatical Islam group called ISIS. These people are nothing more than wild animals and deserve to be slain.

Fraternally,
Gary Rosen

PASSING of MEMBER'S DAD DI JAMES MAHER

My hero and my mentor passed away today. Dad was a highly decorated veteran of two wars- World War II and the Korean War. He was the former Commanding Officer of the NYPD 32 Precinct. A cops cop as I was told by many NYPD veterans upon my arrival in the 32pct . I couldn't have been more proud. He left behind some enormous shoes to fill. A bar too high to possibly meet. He was everything that I strived to be. Rest in Peace Dad

Good morning,

My dad Jimmy Maher passed away October 23, 2014 at home in Tappan NY. He was a past president of Hudson Valley 10-13. He will be waked at Moritz Funeral Home in Tappan NY with funeral mass at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart also in Tappan. The wake will be on Monday October 27th with mass on Tuesday October 28th.

Thank you,
James "Jay" Maher
Retired Sgt. NYPD

James Maher (1927 - 2014) Obituary

<http://www.legacy.com/obituaries/lohud/obituary.aspx?n=james-maher&pid=172929393&fhid=14974>

James Maher, 87, of Tappan, NY, passed away peacefully at home on October 23, 2014. He was a long time parishioner of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Church in Tappan. James was a decorated Navy war veteran who proudly served his country in World War II and the Korean War.

After being discharged from the Navy, James, served in the NYPD. He retired from the NYPD after 28 years of service as a Deputy Inspector. He was commanding officer of both the 32nd and 47th Precincts among other commands.

James was a member and past president of the Hudson Valley 10-13, former treasurer for the Captains Endowment Assoc., member of Rockland County Shields, and Knights of Columbus of Blauvelt, NY. James is predeceased by his wife and his eternal love, Helen. Devoted children, Jay Maher and wife Lisa of Palm Coast, FL, John Maher and wife Denise of Blauvelt, NY, Ann Koesterer of Orangeburg, NY and her husband Dennis, Helayne Duffy of Tappan, NY. Cherished grandchildren, Jay Maher, Elizabeth Solis, Richard Maher, Chris Maher, Sean Maher, Jimmy Maher, Shannon Koesterer, Katelyn Koesterer, Jillian Koesterer, and predeceased by his grandson Dylan Maher. Also survived by four great-grandchildren Mikayla, Jay Jr., Rafael Jr., and Anni-son. Also survived by his sister Ellen and brother Joe, and many nieces and nephews.

A Funeral Mass will be Tuesday, 10am at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart in Tappan with burial to follow at Tappan Cemetery. Visiting hours will be Monday, 2-5 and 7-9pm.

In lieu of flowers, donations to the NYC PBA Widows and Children's Fund (<http://www.nycpba.org/fund/>). Moritz Funeral Home, 98 Route 303, South Tappan, NY 10983 (845) 359-0890 www.moritzfh.com

In passing, Jimmy Maher was my very first CO back in 1972 when I was first assigned as a rookie to the 47th Precinct on White Plains Rd. A gentleman and cops cop. He took a handful of us "rookies" and made us understand the true meaning of police work. I'll say a quietly prayer for him. Jack

Quick story, he actually took the time to assign myself and another rookie to the brand new "neighborhood police team" in the northern (Nora, Paul and Ida) sectors of the 47th. He took the time to explain that there was the law and the spirit of the law and only good cops know the difference. Just coming from the academy back in the early 70's , this was a different approach to the by the book teachings. The academy back than was struggling to get past the Knapp hearings. I strived to know the difference.

Ed Way back in 1973. I stopped a young man who was DWI and speeding under the "EI" with his family in the car. The guys father came to the precinct, a respectable family, he told me a story about his son that brought several cops to almost tears. Well long story short the right thing was done, as it should have been. I was told the next day that I was on my way to becoming a good cop. He had class!

HAVE WE LOST OUR WAY?

YOU BET WE HAVE

It seems as if the great City of New York has become a rudderless ship, abandoned in the midst of deep murky waters. Morality and accountability no longer matter. A fable called "A Tale of Two Cities" thrust a neophyte with a checkered background into the hallowed halls of the Emperor's Mansion. New Yorkers who were savvy enough to see through the smokescreen challenged the fairy tale with utter disbelief.

It's been almost a year, and it certainly has proven to be a tale of two cities. In City No. 1, the police are the good guys, risking their lives to keep everyone safe. Law-abiding mothers and fathers tell their children to look for them if they need help. This result is an overall feeling of safety. That is the way it should be – and was - until the Emperor came to town with his utopian vision.

City No. 2 has reared its ugly head and will not go away. Cops are considered jack-booted storm troopers with no regard for the rights of the people they are paid to protect. Elected officials, lifelong social naysayers masquerading as activists, and even a top official living with a convicted killer have the ear of the Emperor. The inmates are now running the asylum.

The police are bashed with alarming regularity, not by the public, but by the Emperor and his cabal of questionable characters to whom he is so closely aligned. They hold the police to the highest of standards, as they should, but they do so while turning a blind eye to their own indiscretions. A friend of the Emperor, for example, is released from police custody in the dead of night, despite having several outstanding arrest warrants.

A top official earning $170,000 per year is allowed to reside with a convicted killer, drug dealer, and promoter of anti-cop rhetoric on social media who, as recently as last year, tried to run down a police officer. When taken to task, the Emperor not only finds no fault in her transgressions, he defends her actions as being none of anyone's business, including his.

And then, after a star-studded event where the Emperor took center stage, one of his best friends and close allies, a self-described legal guru who has made a fortune suing police officers for often ludicrous brutality claims, finds himself immersed in an event that, if true, is as vile as it is brutal.

How did this happen? How can this city host a national presidential convention or protect ourselves from the constant threat of terrorism when we can't even protect ourselves from City Hall. Who's in charge here? If the stakes were not so high for so many people who call New York home, this whole scenario would seem like the wild musings of a twisted screenwriter. No one would, or should, believe what is happening.

But this is no laughing matter, and if we keep going down this road to nowhere, the last laugh is going to be on all of us with the most tragic of consequences.

The Death Master File of the Social Security Administration

The Death Master File is a computer database file made available by the United States Social Security Administration since 1980. It is known commercially as the Social Security Death Index (SSDI). The file contains information about persons who had Social Security numbers and whose deaths were reported to the Social Security Administration from 1962 to the present; or persons who died before 1962, but whose Social Security accounts were still active in 1962. As of 2009, the file contained information on over 83 million deaths. In 2011, some records were removed from the file ^[1].

The data includes:

Given name and surname; and since the 1990s, middle initial

Full date of birth

Month and year of death; or full date of death for accounts active in 2000 or later

Social Security number

Whether death has been verified or a death certificate has been observed.

In 2011, the following information was removed:

Last ZIP code of the person while alive ZIP code to which the lump sum death benefit was sent, if applicable

The Death Master File is a subset of the Social Security Administration's Numident database file, computerized in 1961,^[1] which contains information about all Social Security numbers issued since 1936.

The Death Master File is considered a public document under the Freedom of Information Act, and monthly and weekly updates of the file are sold by the National Technical Information Service of the U.S. Department of Commerce.^[2] Knowing that a patient died is important in many observational clinical studies and is important for medical research.^[3] It is also used by financial and credit firms and government agencies to match records and prevent identity fraud.

The Death Master File, in its SSDI form, is also used extensively by genealogists. Lorretto Dennis Szucs and Sandra Hargraves Luebking report in The Source: A Guidebook of American Genealogy (1997) that the total number of deaths in the United States from 1962 to September 1991 is estimated at 58.2 million. Of that number, 42.5 million (73 percent) are found in the Death Master File.

Other research published by the Social Security Administration in 2002 suggests that for most years since 1973, 93 percent to 96 percent of deaths of individuals aged 65 or older were included in the DMF.^[4] Today the number of deaths, at any age, reported to the Death Master File is around 95 percent.

Social Security Administration distributes the file via National Technical Information Service. In May 2013, the cost of a single download (with no weekly or monthly or quarterly annual subscription costs) was $1825.^[5]

Crime Prevention Section Holiday Safety Tips

PERSONAL SAFETY TIPS

The NYPD wants to remind you to follow these simple tips:

- Be alert and aware of your surroundings at all times. Criminals often target people who are distracted.
- Whether driving, walking or taking public transportation, plan the trip in advance. Know how to get to your destination by the most direct and safest route.
 - If possible, stay in designated waiting areas or in view of the station booth clerk while awaiting your train.
Never walk or stand near the edge of the subway platform.
- Travel on populated, well lit streets. If possible, travel with a friend.
- When driving, keep your doors locked and the windows closed. Make sure the gas tank is full. Maintain your car in good working order to avoid breakdowns.
- Always lock your car. Before getting into your car, check the back seat to make sure no one is hiding there.
- Avoid leaving valuables in your car. Whenever possible, place items out of sight in the trunk of your vehicle prior to reaching your destination. Never leave packages in the passenger compartment unattended.
- Plan your purchases in advance and carry only the amount of cash or number of credit cards necessary to make the purchase. If you must carry a large sum of money, divide the cash between your purse, pockets and wallet.
- Cancel credit cards you don't use and keep a record of the account numbers for each credit card you possess. This will facilitate reporting the theft or loss of the cards.
- Carry your purse close to your body. Place one end of the purse in the palm of your hand and the other in the bend of the elbow. Never wrap the strap around your body.
- If you are carrying a wallet, carry it in the breast pocket of your jacket or in your side pants pocket. The rear pants pocket is the easiest to pick.
- When in a restaurant, don't leave your handbag over the back of your chair or on the floor. Don't leave belongings unattended.
- Don't wait until you have reached your front door to look for your keys. Have them ready in your hand. If a stranger is standing near your door, it may be a good idea not to go in until the situation feels safer.
* Lock your front door immediately upon entering your home. *******
- If you live in an apartment building, don't buzz in someone who rings your bell until you have verified who they are. This will help protect both you and your neighbors.
- If you have elderly family members or neighbors, please remember to check in on them.
- Remind children to be wary of strangers, including those on the internet.
- Be wary of con artists. Con artists use a number of ploys to trick you and steal your property. Some divert your attention while another picks your pocket, some pose as utility workers or as a trades person to gain access to the inside of your home, while others conduct scams that are more elaborate involving several con artists.
- Be wary of telephone and email solicitations asking for personal information about your accounts, passwords or social security number.

As a consumer you should avoid illegal vendors selling goods on the street. Purchase merchandise only from licensed vendors or reputable stores. Follow your instincts. Remember, "If it seems too good to be true, it probably is".

The names of the 12 cops were added during the emotional ceremony in Battery Park City Friday.

The names of a dozen cops who died of 9/11-related illnesses were added to the NYPD Memorial Wall in Battery Park City during an emotional ceremony Friday. "We will never forget the sacrifice of your loved ones," NYPD Commissioner Bill Bratton told the gathered relatives of the hero cops.

The outdoor walls, dedicated in 1997, display the names of all 792 NYPD cops killed in the line of duty. An annual ceremony adds new names to the list. This year, all the added names belonged to cops who died from 9/11-related health woes.

"Toxic dust swirled around them as they did their duty," Mayor de Blasio said at the ceremony. They did the right thing. They did the tough thing. They did the noble thing — and we honor them. The names added to the wall Friday were: Officers Francis Pitone, Frank Macri, Richard Holland, Ronald Becker, Jr., Karen Barnes; Dets. Thomas Weiner Jr., Traci Tack-Czajkowski, Tommy Merriweather, John Kristoffersen, Carmen Figueroa; Sgt. Michael McHugh, and Lt. Steven Cioffi.

PLEASE PASS THE WORD:

To all,

If you can get some information out to your members, friends, family and neighbors. We are experiencing a rash of car breaks and car thefts in palm coast. It appears that besides our local thieves in our neighborhoods we are getting a group of possible gang members from Daytona Beach coming up to Palm Coast and breaking into cars, many at one time, stealing what they can from UNLOCKED and OPEN VEHICLES and stealing the contents which are including electronics, money and wallets and pocketbooks and let's not forget the GUNS they are getting! Also some citizens are leaving the keys in the car and they are stealing the cars themselves which are being recovered in Daytona.

Please alert everyone you know to LOCK YOUR VEHICLES and REMOVE ALL YOUR PROPERTY to include PERSONAL INFORMATION and GUNS!

If anyone sees anything or better yet anyone suspicious walking around your neighborhoods please call the sheriff's office. If an emergency dial 911 but other than that please use our non-emergency line 313-4911. Thank you all.

SBA Ebola Crisis Update

Dear Sergeant,

Last week I wrote to you that the SBA is committed to protecting our members and their families in the midst of the current Ebola crisis. That included directing Health & Welfare Secretary Anthony Borelli and Brooklyn South Director Edmund Small to coordinate the SBA's efforts in response to this potentially deadly virus and purchasing 5,000 NAR PPE Kits™ for members. We have also called on the NYPD to improve information sharing and provide better equipment for all members.

As part of our ongoing efforts, I traveled to Washington, D.C. today along with Health & Welfare Secretary Borelli and Recording Secretary Vincent Vallelong to meet with federal policymakers about the government's response to the Ebola crisis and what members are being told by New York City. We explained the frustration and concern members have expressed about the disparate and insufficient information they are getting about the virus and how it is spread. We explained the roles police officers may have to fill in responding to the epidemic and stressed the need for improved coordination and information sharing with first responders and their representatives. We also stressed the need to focus on preparedness measures to prevent the disease from reaching our city and not just measures to respond to and contain it after it materializes. Our in-person discussions with officials in Washington could not have been more timely because as we were meeting a New York City doctor who recently returned from aid work in an Ebola-ravaged West African nation was being transported to Bellevue to be tested for Ebola.

Last week I wrote to you that the SBA is committed to protecting our members and their families

We do know that this doctor is in fact infected with Ebola. All indications so far are that the response from the NYPD, FDNY, and other city and state agencies was a textbook operation that ensured the safety of all involved. Even so, an incident like this further highlights the need for us to remain vigilant and work to ensure that Sergeants and all first responders have the best knowledge and equipment available to protect them from the deadly Ebola virus. The SBA is committed to ensuring this happens and will continue to update you as our efforts with city, state, and federal policymakers continue.

Fraternally,

Ed Mullins

Important Information Concerning Concealed Weapon License Reciprocity with Other States

Section 790.015, Florida Statutes, allows Florida to recognize concealed weapon licenses issued by another state provided the other state will honor Florida concealed weapon licenses. In accordance with this section of law, we have reached reciprocity/mutual recognition agreements with the states that appear in the table below. Therefore, your Florida Concealed Weapon or Firearm License is valid in any of these states. Conversely, resident concealed weapon license holders of these states can carry concealed weapons in Florida. (Note the exception concerning the State of Vermont on the reverse side.)

Alabama1, 3, 5	Louisiana1	Pennsylvania1, 4, 6
Alaska1	Michigan1, 4	South Carolina1, 4, 6
Arizona6	Mississippi1	South Dakota1, 3
Arkansas1	Missouri	Tennessee1, 6
Colorado1, 4	Montana3	Texas1, 3, 6
Delaware	Nebraska1	Utah1, 6
Georgia1	New Hampshire1, 3, 4, 6	Vermont2
Idaho3, 6	New Mexico1	Virginia1, 6
Indiana1, 3, 6	North Carolina1	West Virginia1
Iowa6	North Dakota3, 6	Wyoming1,
Kansas1	Ohio1
Kentucky	Oklahoma1

Please note this list is ALWAYS KEPT CURRENT and is revised only when states are added or deleted. Last updates include:

April 25, 2013: Effective this date, WASHINGTON will no longer honor a Florida concealed weapon license.

February 4, 2013: Effective this date, PENNSYLVANIA will no longer honor a Florida concealed weapon license if the license holder is not a RESIDENT of the state of Florida.

If you have any questions about concealed weapon license reciprocity with other states, please submit those questions to the Division of Licensing via e-mail to Laura.Gallagher@FreshFromFlorida.com.

Advisory for Citizens Traveling With Firearms

Gun laws vary from state to state. It is extremely important for citizens traveling with firearms to familiarize themselves with firearms ownership and possession laws of any state they plan to visit. Our Division's reciprocity web page (<http://www.freshfromflorida.com/Divisions-Offices/Licensing/Consumer-Services/Concealed-Weapon-License/States-Recognizing-Florida-License>) includes links to each reciprocity state's web site where you may be able to find helpful information concerning firearms ownership and possession laws for that jurisdiction. If you have any questions about firearms laws in a particular state, you should contact law enforcement authorities in that state for clarification.

Answers to Commonly Asked Questions (9) About Reciprocity And Traveling With A Firearm

QUESTION 4. I have a Florida Concealed Weapon/Firearm License, but I am not a legal resident of Florida. Can I travel to the states that recognize Florida licenses and still carry a concealed weapon?

Most of the reciprocity states will honor Florida non-resident permits; however, authorities in a number of states have informed us that there are specific provisions in their laws that restrict the terms of their mutual recognition agreements ONLY to the LICENSED RESIDENTS of other states. Therefore, those individuals who hold Florida licenses but who are not residents of Florida cannot carry concealed weapons in these states. Please take careful note of those states listed above that have a reference to Footnote 4 after them.

BE ADVISED: Because gun laws are subject to change or different interpretation by state courts, we recommend that non-resident Florida licensees call or write licensing authorities in the states in which they will be traveling to obtain the latest information on this important topic.

QUESTION 6. I am planning a trip to Florida shortly. I do not have a permit from my home state nor do I want to obtain a Florida permit. However, I would still like to have a weapon with me for self-protection. What are my options?

Florida law does allow a citizen to transport a weapon in a private vehicle, even if that citizen DOES NOT HAVE a concealed weapon license. Note the following two key provisions in the law: "securely encased" "in a glove compartment, snapped in a holster; in a gun case, zippered gun case; closed box or container which requires a lid or cover to be opened for access."

(FOUO) Jihadist Propaganda Provides Guidance For Lone Offender Attacks Against Law Enforcement (LE) and Department of Defense (DOD) Members (Source: Central Florida Intelligence Exchange (CFIX) Intelligence Bulletin (IB) #14-10-07, dated 10 Oct 14) (edited): Propaganda providing guidance and/or encouraging "individual jihad" or small cell operations against the West continues to be a prevalent theme in jihadist messaging. Over the past several years there have been and will most likely be a continued call - by the Islamic State and their supporters - for lone offender attacks against Western security forces against both DOD and LE members. These threats will likely increase as the US and its allies continue to carry out airstrikes against the Islamic State in Syria and Iraq. LE officers and DOD members would most likely be targeted individually in spontaneous 'ambush' style attacks similar to the 2013 machete attack against a British soldier in the UK.

(U//FOUO) Several prominent terrorists have given the following advice via social media to networks when it comes to targeting DOD and civilian LE officers:

(U//FOUO) After identifying the home address of the police officer, the first suggestion provided is to stab him as he enters or leaves his home. After killing the officer, behead him as a warning. The second solution is to burn the officer's house or vehicle.

(U//FOUO) Monitor the officer's activities and identify his shift change. Watch for the officer to leave in civilian clothing, get him alone on the street or a deserted location and kill him.

(U//FOUO) If you know of a detective but cannot kill him yourself "spread his photo until he's killed by someone else and do not allow him to ever stay comfortable"

(U//FOUO) "Placing suspicious objects in the streets might stop traffic for hours." Police officers can be targeted by providing "false news" to "lure them to a remote area" where the brothers can "finish them off."

(U//FOUO) If a brother knows that he is under surveillance by LE, he should evacuate his family then "lure the officer into your home" and blow it up.

(U//FOUO) Terrorize the officers by calling them from an anonymous number in the middle of the night and telling them "ISIS is coming for you now and your head will fly off."

(U//FOUO) Remove the tag from their vehicles, cover their face, then search for the officers and run them over.

(U//FOUO) Drive an explosive laden toy car under their police vehicle. Once the officer enters the vehicle, remotely detonate the explosives.

(U//FOUO) For those who no longer have the ability to travel, they can kidnap and murder military personnel of Western and allied countries.

(U//FOUO) Prospective lone-wolves should allow large scale attacks to speak for themselves.

(U//FOUO) LEIB Comment: (Source: US Army North (ARNORTH) Provost Marshall Protection Directorate Law Enforcement Intelligence Branch Daily Situation Report (DR) #0233-14, dated 14 Oct 14) (edited): LE and the Intelligence Community (IC) are unaware of any direct, specific, or credible threats from Lone Offenders in response to US military action in Iraq, Syria or pro-ISIL messaging. However, violent extremists who support ISIL could become motivated to conduct attacks on DOD soft targets such as [armories, stand alone readiness centers] recruiting stations and ROTC detachments with little-to-no warning. Due to individualized nature of radicalization and the propensity to commit violent acts, it is difficult to assess triggers that will contribute to attempted acts of violence. Moreover, HVE lone offenders present LE with limited opportunities to detect and disrupt plots, which frequently involve simple plotting against targets of opportunity. LE and the IC have seen a significant increase in reporting of suspicious activity and threats to military personnel and assets. This type of activity may be directly or indirectly attributed to ISIS/ISIL/ jihadist calls for violence against military personnel and their families.

(U//FOUO) Report any suspicious activity, behavior or something out of the ordinary to police or security personnel immediately. If you see something, say something at; <http://dmna.state.ny.us/atfp/> or call the NYSIC Tip Line 1-(866)723-3697.
